The Anarchists Will Hang Nov. 11---Count Milkiewitz.

Gould Becomes a Land Grabber ---Labor Troubles.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Dr. Charles E. Simmons, who attended Samuel J. Tilden in his last illness, yesterday presented a bill for $143.

MINERS STRIKE.

WASHINGTON, Ind., Sept 14.—This morning 500 miners employed by Cabel & Co., struck for an advance of 10 per cent. A long strike is expected.

THE ANARCHISTS TO HANG.

ALTOONA, Ills., Sept. 14.—The Supreme Court this morning delivered an opinion in the anarchist case, affirming the judgment of the court below. The execution is set to take place on November 11th, between nine and four o'clock.

The opinion was unanimous. It was written by Judge Magruder, of the Chicago district, and is an able exposition of the law and the previous interpretation thereof by eminent jurists in the United States, as well as of the courts in regard to the alleged and perhaps real errors in this regard. In his work he was helped by each of the other judges, who made him their spokesman, and through him expressed their unanimous decision. The opinion covers 225 pages of closely written manuscript, and about 56,000 words. The Anarchist Spies received a telegram announcing the decision. On its receipt the Anarchist editor glanced frowningly at the turnkey and then withdrew to a darker end of his cell. In two minutes or so he called gently to an old man who sits outside of the door as a deathwatch and asked him to hand the telegram to Parsons. From him it went to all the others, and at last reached Neebe who is under sentence of imprisonment only.

SENTENCED FOR MANSLAUGHTER.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14.—Low Ah Fun, the Chinaman who pleaded guilty to manslaughter on Monday, was sentenced to eight years' imprisonment in Folsom State Prison to-day.

DECLINES RE-ELECTION.

MADISON, Sept. 13.—Commander-in-Chief Fairchild states that he is not a candidate for re-election at the coming meeting of the G. A. R. He says he cannot afford to devote another year to the duties of Commander-in-chief, which are such as to consume all his time to the entire exclusion of all his private business.

NOT THE WOMAN.

EAST SAGINAW, Sept. 13.—The woman arrested at Jersey City on Saturday night on account of her story about the Ford children kidnapping case, is not Mrs. Brooks of Tuscola County, who recently created so much talk by her adventures in Colorado and California. Mrs. Brooks is now at Cairo in this state.

DEATH OF THE RAIL.

CHEHALIS, Sept. 13.—This morning at 8 o'clock, one mile south of Columbia, on the road crossing, the engine of train No. 2 struck a wagon, and instantly killed the driver G. L. Bingham. The whistle was blown and the bell rung, but the man had stopped his team as if to wait. He then whipped his horses, and train caught him in crossing.

A STRIKE IMMINENT.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—There will be a strike on Thursday of men in the ale and porter breweries of this city and Brooklyn unless the bosses renew the agreement made with the Ale and Porter Employees Association in June, 1886. This will mean the total suspension of brewing, as all the men belonging to this association are members of Assembly District 49, Knights of Labor. The agreement provides that the head men in all the departments shall be paid $18 a week; head stablemen, $18; route drivers, $18; other drivers, $15; drivers assistants, $12; all inside men, $15; stablemen, $12. Ten hours for week days and five hours on Sunday were fixed as the maximum hours for labor. There are nearly 2500 men in the organization.

KNOWS NOTHING OF IT.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—In answer to an enquiry relative to the statement made in the British House of Commons by Sir James Ferguson to the effect that the United States Government had ordered a discontinuance of the seizure of British vessels sealing in Alaskan waters, Secretary Bayard said he knew nothing of the making of an order such as was described.

SLOWNESS OF THE THETIS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Some dissatisfaction is expressed at the Navy Department over the slow progress of the United States steamship Thetis towards Alaska. The vessel sailed several months ago from Portsmouth, Virginia, and should have been at her destination by this date, if she equalled the trip of the Bear, which is a slower vessel. When last heard from the Thetis was at Callao, Peru, and it is extremely doubtful if she can reach Alaska, where she is to assist in protecting the sealeries, before the winter closes in.

NEW YORK REPUBLICANS.

SARATOGA, New York, Sept. 14.—The ticket favored at the meeting of Republicans last night was as follows: Secretary of State, Fred. D. Grant, New York; Comptroller, Jesse L. Ameresx, of Saratoga; State Treasurer, Jas. H. Carmichael, of Erie; State Engineer, Perry H. Cornell, of Tompkins. Promptly at noon 693 delegates met in the Casino Rink. Hon. Seth Low at once assumed the temporary chairmanship, at the same time beginning an address to the Convention.

MAKES A CONFESSION.

MARYSVILLE, Cal., Sept. 14.—E. C. Gassaway, clerk in Wells, Fargo & Co.'s office who was found on the floor on the 29th of last month, apparently unconscious with the safe open and $615 missing, has confessed that he was feigning unconsciousness, and that he took the money. He is also $50 short in his book accounts. Detective J. B. Hume has been working on the case and secured the confession in San Francisco on Tuesday. Gassaway is only 21 years old, and hitherto been considered an exemplary young man

COUNT MILKIEWITZ.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—The Chinese Minister and Envoys who accompanied Milkiewitz from China are going on Wednesday to Philadelphia upon the Count's invitation, where they expect to meet at dinner Wharton Barker and other Philadelphia capitalists, who are going to invest in the Chinese concessions.

Milkiewitz was asked to-day if he had a reply to make to the dispatch said to have been sent by the Warsaw Chief of Police, stating that no one named Milkiewitz had been born there. "It is absurd," said the Count, "on its face; any man acquainted with Russian or Polish affairs will pronounce it bogus. In Poland no language except the Russian is spoken now or permitted to be spoken. This dispatch as published is Polish. It is nothing but forgery!"

GOULD A LAND-GRABBER.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—A special from Washington this morning says: "Considerable curiosity has been awakened by the discovery that Jay Gould is among the number of the northern speculators who have lately been taking advantage of the Act of Congress of 1878, throwing open lands in the Southern States to public and private sale. This form of speculation has taken the shape of a big boom lately. Sales in the State of Louisiana, for example, during July last alone were equal to the total sales in the same State for the whole of the year 1880. Gould has been buying in Louisana chiefly in Calcasieu and Vernon parishes. His investments amount to some thirty thousand acres, and he and a few other investors have taken possession between them of from eighty to a hundred thousand acres, comprising all the land that is left in some eight townships of Calcasieu and nine of Vernon parishes.

THE SALMON MARKET.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—Advices from London to-day state that salmon prices are exceedingly firm in face of a rising market at Liverpool, but the trade does not respond with anything like the same alacrity that it does in the north. Advancing prices are reported from the Pacific Coast, leaving the impression that the quotations have been pushed too high to admit of expanding the consumption of the article. The transactions during the week have been of a comparatively narrow scale.

The London Grocer's Gazette reports: Too high values now ruling for this commodity here materially checked the demand from the retail trade. Higher prices are not impossible, and they will be accompanied with much reduced consumption so that the grocers may be expected to purchase for their bare requirements only which will mean a small business for some time to come.

SWINEFORD'S SUIT.

DETROIT, Sept. 12.—Depositions have been taken at Grand Rapids of several witnesses in the case of the State against A. P. Swineford, Governor of Alaska. Swineford was one of Michigan's Commissioners to the New Orleans exposition and handled funds appropriated by the State for its exhibit at the exposition. It is charged that he failed to make a proper accounting of the money, and suit was brought by Attorney-General Taggart on behalf of the State, to recover an alleged deficit of $750. The suit will be heard at Marquette this week. Governor Swineford's friends allege that it is a political scheme, the Attorney-General being a Republican.

TO PEOPLE CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—A plan by which California will gain a very large population is said to be under consideration by the Directors of the Southern Pacific. It is nothing more or less than making bed rock rates from Chicago to the coast to induce immigration.

It is so far perfected, it is said, that Senator Stanford believes that he can secure the co-operation of the other lines in making arrangements. The proporiation contemplates as low a rate as $15 between Chicago and this city. The present rate of fare is $47.50. Between Ogden and this city the Southern Pacific Company will haul immigrants free, and it is likely that the Union Pacific will be prevailed upon to make a nominal rate so that from Missouri River the total cost of passage would be about $5 not including meals. The giving of a virtual free table as well as railway fare has been considered and may yet be adopted. The free fare privilege will be for immigrants who purpose residing permanently on the coast.

ALASKA SALMON PACK.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—When the schooner Wm. Renton returns from her voyage to Alaska the salmon pack of the northern canneries will be known. It is believed that the total production will not be short of 125,000 cases.

ARCHBISHOP SEGHERS.

Tribute to His Grace from Bishop Brondal of Montana.

Bishop Brondel, of Montana, and formerly of this city, has addressed the following beautiful tribute to the late Archbishop Seghers, to the clergy of his diocese:

HELENA, MONTANA, August 25, 1887.

To the Rev. Clergy of the Diocese:

BELOVED BRETHREN: It is now a month since we first received the news of the great loss the Church has sustained in the death of Most Rev. Charles John Seghers, Archbishop of Vancouver Island. Our great love toward this saintly prelate prevented us from realizing the truth of the report of his death until it was too truly confirmed. We have lost him who visited many missions in Montana, who was successful in obtaining from the Holy See the erection of this Territory into a diocese and who brought us to you. We have lost the Apostle of Alaska, sent by Leo from Rome to bring the Catholic faith to the utmost limits of the earth. We have lost the Saint who, imitating St. Livinus, who stepped from the Episcopal See of Dublin to bring the faith to the savages of Flanders, in our day stepped from the Archiepiscopal See of Oregon to wade as a travelling missionary through the snows of the Yukon and bring the faith to the Esquimaux.

We have lost a most learned theologian a wise administrator, a model Bishop. We have lost a life-long friend who, in the last act of his life, has taught us to die manfully in the service of God. His memory is held in benediction, and, without anticipating the voice of authority, we will cherish the thought that he died a martyr's death.

What we do for other Christians, we will do with the greatest charity on occasion of his death, and whilst we will ever remember him in our prayers, it is our ardent desire that all in the churches of the diocese where a priest resides and where no service has taken place for the repose of his soul, a Requiem Mass be celebrated with due solemnity.

†JOHN B. BRONDEL,
Bishop of Helena.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—It is rumored that changes are about to be made in the French ministry, M. Rouvir, who meets with difficulty in the financial situation, is said to be desirous of resigning.

JOINING THE LEAGUE.

DUBLIN, Sept. 14.—At a meeting of the executive committee of the Irish National League yesterday, Henry Labouchere, Cashel Wright, J. T. Brunner and Robert Leat, all Englishmen and members of parliament, were elected members.

O'BRIEN IN GAOL.

Mr. O'Brien, member of parliament, is still in Cork jail, and will be brought before the magistrate at Mitchellstown on the 23rd. In an interview in prison he has declared he will not perform prison labor of any kind, nor under any circumstances submit to associate with criminals.

O'BRIEN'S ARRIVAL IN DUBLIN.

DUBLIN, Sept. 12.—The mayor, members of the municipality and many prominent citizens met Editor O'Brien at the Cork depot. Two hundred policemen and a strong military force escorted O'Brien to the court house, where a formal charge was made against him, and he was remanded to jail. The streets were crowded with people. The mayor complained to Magistrate Gardiner of the presence of the military and police, which he said was not needed, and were calculated to irritate the populace. The streets through which O'Brien was taken to the jail were lined with troops. Stones were thrown at the police escorting O'Brien, and several were wounded. The police then charged the crowd [illegible] their batons freely, and injuring many of the spectators.

THE MOONLIGHTERS.

DUBLIN, Sept. 14.—In connection with the moonlighting affray at Lisdoon, Varna, on Sunday night, in which the head constable, Whatcham, lost his life, nine men are in custody. It is alleged that the leader of the raid is the informer. At Ballypore, in the county of Cork, there has been an affray between policemen and civilians, in which one of the former fired two shots from a revolver, but hit no person.

ENGLISH HOME RULERS.

Great preparations are in progress in Dublin for the reception and entertainment of an influential deputation from the Home Rule men of Great Britain. They will be present at a meeting in the round room of the Rotunda on Wednesday and on Thursday evening will be the guests of the Lord Mayor at the Mansion House.

MEMBERS SUSPENDED.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—During a discussion in the House of Commons last night on the amendment made in the House of Lords to the Coal Miners' bill, Graham, member for Lanarkshire, was suspended for refusing to apologize for derogatory references to the House of Lords.

Edward Harrington, Nationalist, member for West Kerry, was also suspended. The House was considering the amendments made by the House of Lords to the Truck Bill in reference to the weekly payments of wages in Ireland. Harrington after being warned for his utterances during the debate was ordered by the Speaker to resume his seat. He replied passionately, "I will not resume my seat. You have been watching to pounce upon me ever since I rose. I claim my right to speak." Harrington was thereupon suspended and retired from the House amid the cheers of the Parnellites.

STANLEY HEARD FROM.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—A dispatch from St. Paul de Loando, dated September 5th, states that Major Bartellot has received news from Stanley, dated July 12th. Stanley was then proceeding toward the Aruwimi, which he found navigable above the rapids. He expected to arrive on July 22nd at the centre of Mabodi and reach Wadelai by the middle of August.

SICK AND SORE.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—It is reported from many quarters that Hartington's accession to the Premiership is imminent. Salisbury is broken in health and profoundly discouraged. He wants to be rid of the whole thing. He is said to insist that Hartington shall take his place and be ready to meet a refusal by the cost of dissolution, which would mean the extinction of the Liberal Unionists. The change may come any time after the House rises, which will probably be ten days hence.

NEWS OF THE WORLD.

The News by Wire and Mail in Brief Paragraphs.

The Emperor William attended a review at Stettin on Monday for two hours, standing in his carriage. He appeared to be in excellent health.

Editor O'Brien has announced his intention of distributing $1000, received from friends in America, among the relatives of the martyrs of Mitchellstown.

The telegraph informs us that O'Brien refuses to perform prison labor. It is quite unlikely that he will be ordered to do that sort of work.

John Embody, 70 years of age, recently sold out his effects on Dearborn Creek, Montana, with the intention of removing to New York, realizing $1200. He was subsequently murdered by a young man from the Northwest, and the murderer stole a horse and escaped. He was immediately pursued.

Capt. Mike Cregan, a noted New York ward politician, died on Monday night. Mrs. Ford, who was reported to have lost her four children at a New York hotel, is believed to be a crank or insane.

SCHOOL BOARD.

Mr. Helsterman Resigns the Secretaryship---Prayer in Schools.

The regular monthly meeting of the School Board was held last evening, all the members present.

Reports were read from the teachers, giving the promotions from the several classes. The principal of the boys' department, Mr. J. A. Halliday, gave an abstract of promotions acted upon in June last, adding that promotions were a mere matter of expediency, and had been so for years. This arose from the number of new pupils in the lower divisions.

Dr. Milne understood the percentage to entitle a pupil to pass for promotion was 60. The reports were absolutely useless.

Mr. Ferguson said if promotion were merely "a matter of expediency" the sooner the Board opened its eyes to the fact the better. He suggested that the matter be referred to the department, asking that a standard be established, which should be rigidly adhered to. He would move that the report be received and referred to a committee to report at next meeting. Seconded by Dr. Milne and carried. Committee to consist of Dr. Milne, Trustees Ferguson, Walker and the chairman.

Communications were read from the Health Officer and the Surveyor-General in reference to urinals, and from Miss Armstrong, asking for a supply of chalk.

The Secretary contended that he alone had power to order supplies, which was disputed by the other trustees.

Miss Armstrong's communication was referred to the Supply Committee, whereupon Mr. Heisterman resigned his position of Secretary, which on motion was accepted.

The position was then offered to several trustees and declined, until finally Mr. Walker acted pro tem.

Reports were read showing that the aggregate school attendence per day for the past month was 905.86 which, divided amount 20 teachers, gave 48.29 per teacher.

Mr. Heisterman stated that Spring Ridge school house would be ready for occupation on the 1st of October.

Mr. Ferguson moved that each teacher be required to open and close his or her class by reading Scripture and the Lord's prayer. He was not quite sure that he was right about the Scripture, but he knew that he was as to the Lord's prayer. As it was now no reference was made to the existence of the Almighty. British Columbia was the only Province in the Dominion whose schools were not opened with some Scriptural service.

The Chairman said he was afraid the resolution went too far. The Act said the highest morality should be inculcated. Religion should be taught or introduced.

Mr. Ferguson thought it right that the Bible should be introduced in the schools. He was willing to withdraw that part of the motion relative to closing with prayer but certainly the schools should be opened with the Lord's prayer.

Mr. Harris thought the board should confine itself to the strict letter of the Act. No matter how much he was in favor of reading the Scriptures he did not think it should be made compulsory amongst the teachers. There could be no objection though to the reading of the Lord's prayer; clause 16 of the Act was all that was necessary to guide the teachers as it was quite optional with them to read the prayer or not.

The resolution passed with the modification that the Lord's prayer should be read at the opening only.

In committee the following appointments were made: Miss Lucretia Horton to be teacher of the new ward school; Miss Ada Keast to be 4th assistant girl's school, vice Miss Horton promoted; Miss S. A. Robinson to be 5th assistant girl's school, vice Miss Keast promoted.

A SWORD THAT SHOULD CUT TWO WAYS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR—The decision to-day in the case of Weller vs. the C. P. N. Co., where purser sued defendant for $8.33, being wages for five days on steamer R. P. Rithet, should be a warning to all steamboat men. Purser was engaged at monthly wages, but not for one month's labor (nor any stated period) and was under the impression that his employers had power to discharge him without notice at any time suitable to them, paying him for the time only actually at work, and that he was likewise at perfect liberty to leave without notice and claim all wages due him up to date of leaving. Everyone will admit this to be an absurdly lose form of free trade and the sooner at an end the more satisfactory for employers and employees. Yet everyone who knows anything about steamboating in these waters will admit that this custom was generally observed from time immemorial in the coasting trade of British Columbia. A custom introduced not by employees but by their employers who it seems by the judge's decision today, have the power to fling it aside at any time and insist on a rule, never before heard of in these waters, that requires some sort of indefinite notice (the time needed as a notice has not been yet specified) before leaving work, and that all who fail to conform with such a rule forfeit all money due them. The law has therefore permitted the C. P. N. Co. to retain the few paltry dollars due Mr. Weller for wages earned as a fireman; but wherever there is such a thing as a conscience the question of their moral right is too obvious to be discussed. It will be rather interesting to know if this rule can affect the company when directed against them by rendering them liable to any corresponding penalty for discharging men without due notice. If so, the Firemen and Seamen's Union has no cause to regard to-day's decision a defeat, for a large number of its members were discharged from the steamer Yosemite on the 5th of the current month without an hour's warning. Knowing the proverbial uncertainties of the law, all we can hope for is that this particular rule—which the Union will soon be at the expense of testing—will prove a sword that cuts two ways. Yours sincerely,

RODERICK MORRISON,
Sec. Firemen and Deckhands Union.

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL.

In Ottawa it is understood that there will be a general reorganization of the Ontario judiciary owing to the death of Chief Justice Cameron and the contemplated resignation of Chief Justice Wilson.

The government have for some time been carrying on negotiations with the French Government through its Canadian agent, Hon. Hector Fabre, in reference to better relations with France.

The rumor that all efforts in connection with the establishing of a purely Conservative paper had ceased it appears was incorrect. Canvassing for stock in the bantling still continues. Already upwards of $150,000 has been subscribed.

We are glad to learn from an extract published elsewhere from the Toronto Globe that there is some doubt as to the correctness of the report of the remarks attributed by the Mail to Rev. Hugh Johnston. But if the offensive remarks were exaggerated by the reporters an explanation or correction should have immediately followed.

From all accounts the observations of the total solar eclipse last month were almost complete failures save in Siberia and Japan, the weather in the European zone having been most unfavorable. At St. Petersburg and Moscow over 300,000 roubles were spent in fruitless preparations, and at Berlin also the large expenditure incurred produced no results.

The wife of President Cleveland has walked two miles in going to and from church, and United States society is shocked, scandalized and excited over the performance. Mrs. Cleveland's example is a good one, certainly, from the subject, and from a hygienic standpoint. If generally imitated by the young ladies of the day they would have healthier bodies and better looks than the average city girl now possesses.

An Ottawa special says: Guesses continue to be made at the probable basis of the fisheries negotiations, but it is officially stated they are simply guesses. The government has received no intimation yet which would warrant any of the statements which have appeared. While the government and parliament would probably not reject any piecemeal offer of settlement of any portion of the dispute now pending, yet at the same time it is understood that the government is anxious to arrive at a full and final settlement of the difficulties, and negotiations will be conducted with that end in view.

Referring to the late Hudson's Bay Company Conference held in Winnipeg, the Sun says: "One thing particularly noticeable in connection with the recent conference of the officers of the Hudson's Bay Company in this city was the easy adaptation of all the gentlemen to the customs of refined society. Many of them have been located at posts far removed from civilization, and with no companionship save that of the savage tribes about them. Yet, through all, they have preserved not only the fluency of their native tongue, but also the manners of the social circles to which they were at one time accustomed. It would thus seem that man's natural instincts are not so depraved in character as they are sometimes depicted to be.

The movement for the naturalization of British residents of the cities of the United States has reached Chicago, and at a meeting of Primrose Lodge, Sons of St. George, held in that city the other evening, a committee was appointed to visit the other organizations and to promote the scheme. The Herald estimates that there are 50,000 Canadians, Englishmen and Scotchmen living in Chicago. Of these more than one-half are Canadians, and of the whole more than 12,000 are males of voting age. Of the latter not more than 4000 are naturalized, so that there are yet between eight or nine thousand who have not secured the rights of citizenship. Even if five thousand of these were added to the voting list they would in combination with the four thousand British-born residents already naturalized constitute a powerful element in politics.

Toronto Globe: "That a well meaning minister may easily get himself into a peck of trouble is well illustrated in the dealings of the Victoria, B. C., Times, with Rev. Hugh Johnston, of this city. Mr. Johnston is reported to have said on his return home, "that it is difficult to meet a man in Victoria who does not stink with liquor." Upon this The Times proceeds to flannel Mr. Johnston with all the breezy assidcity that characterizes the Far Western man's dealings with the erring. We doubt if Mr. Johnston ever made any such sweeping remark. Of course there are drunken men in Victoria, and the institution of the Sabbath does not yet appear to have reached that city, if we may judge from the press thereof. But no doubt there are as many worthy people to the square mile there as in any other place of the same age and condition, and we are sure Mr. Johnston would not willingly hurt their feelings."

INCREASED TRADE RELATIONS.

The agitation in favor of Commercial Union with the United States is on the increase in Canada. Now that the harvest is over and farmers in a position to give the subject attention, by attending meetings to hear it discussed, a decided move in its favor has set in. From the Ottawa to the St. Clair rivers meetings have been held, and everywhere resolutions in favor of the scheme carried. The question is not a political one, for outside of Richard Cartwright no prominent man in either party has yet pronounced either for or against the movement. It is true many representatives in the Commons and the local legislature have expressed their views without committing themselves to any line of policy. From both sides the question is approached with extreme caution. Occasionally a leading Conservative or a Liberal gives his views. The last on the Conservative side to fire a gun is Mr. William Cluxton, ex-M. P. for West Peterboro. Last week that gentlemen addressed a letter to the Peterboro Review, which is one of a series contributed by him, urging the large advantages which Canada must derive from such a trade arrangement, and in the strongest language deprecates the narrow, contracted, personal criticism by which it is sought to turn aside the movement. In his last letter he says:

"Is not the cry of 'Commercial Annexationist' a weak argument? Does it not express a fear that Canadians "would be so charmed with Commercial "Union that they would hanker after "Political Union? If the United States "are willing to give us Unrestricted Reciprocity, there is no fear as to Canada's "willingness to accept it. The question "of Commercial Union is purely a commercial matter, and should be discussed "calmly and dispassionately upon its "merits. It has no political bearing in "either country. But if politics should "unfortunately be drawn into the discussion and it is made a party question, the "party that opposes it will go to the wall."

Mr. Goldwin Smith is by far the ablest advocate of Commercial Union in the country, and whatever emanates from his powerful pen on this question—which like a tidal wave is sweeping over Ontario and the maritime provinces—will be read with more than ordinary interest. Apart from his scholarship, intense earnestness, and courageous avowal of unpopular theories, Prof. Smith is an earnest political student. In a letter to the Mail of a recent date he goes fully into the subject, and points out the forces which, in his opinion, are at work in favor of a union of English-speaking races on this continent. "For twenty years" writes Mr. Smith, "I have watched the action of the social and economical forces, which are all, as it seems to me, drawing powerfully and steadily in that direction. Intercourse of every kind, co-operation for every sort of object, interchange of hospitalities, inter-marriage, are daily on the increase. The unifying influence of railways is felt more and more as the international system becomes more complete; and it is strange that men whose calling it is to promote and facilitate such communication shall be found recoiling with horror from the thought of Commercial Union. An actual fusion is in fact taking place through the migration of Canadians to the centres of wealth and employment; and the separatist system, as it impoverishes Canada, thus militates against its own political object by driving Canadians into the arms of the American Republic. The population on the two sides of the line being not only kindred and similar, but identical, and the political institutions of both being, not only in principle but almost in form, the same, the consummation to which all this points can hardly fail some day in the course of nature to arrive; though no one who had a particle of statesmanship in his composition would desire to anticipate the course of nature or to hasten the union by a day. Such, I say, is my settled conviction, and so far as I am able to gauge popular opinion, while there is nothing like an annexationist movement on foot, the prospect of closer relations with the United States is ceasing to be a bugbear, and the alarmist cry of annexation is losing much of its effect." * * * "Such is my faith; but I am equally sincere in expressing my belief that the questions of commercial and political union are not only theoretically distinguishable from each other, but are practically distinct; and that Canada may modify her fiscal or trade relations with her neighbor in any way, or to any extent she pleases, without surrendering her political independence. A certain resignation of control over the national tariffs on both sides is a necessary part of every commercial treaty and would involve no forfeiture of political autonomy in the case of Canada and the United States any more than in that of England and France. The rates would be fixed by mutual consent, and liberty of withdrawal after due notice would be reserved. Why increase of commercial intercourse with a neighbor should threaten the integrity of a nation any more than the increase of social, religious, philanthropic, intellectual and general intercourse, it is difficult to see. The question has been often asked, and never answered, on what ground, if partial reciprocity showed no tendency to impair nationality, we should expect complete reciprocity to destroy it. There is a school of fiscal reformers which proposes to abolish all import duties and raise the whole revenue by direct taxation; Cobden inclined to it, and I have often discussed the question with him. Supposing that school prevailed and import duties were abolished, would the nationalities cease to exist? Would they even be sensibly affected by the change? This immediate effect of Commercial Union would be to relieve Confederation of a heavy strain, to allay the discontent of the Maritime Provinces, and by giving our people generally the commercial advantages of union with their continent to make them content with existing political arrangements. Americans who are strongly desirous of annexation, are, as I have recently had occasion to observe, opposed on that very ground to Commercial Union. It is from this quarter and from certain protected manufacturers in the United States, who are opposed to the measure, that we get these terrible pictures of the loss of independence and the humiliation which Canada in embracing Commercial Union would have to undergo. But everyone who has mixed with the Americans or watched American opinion must know that the number of Americans who desire the annexation of Canada, or even think about it, is comparatively small. The general feeling is that the Republic has territory enough, and that a further extension would be dangerous. The inducement that the Free States once had to bring Canada into the Union for the purpose of countervailing the power and the southward extension of the Slave States has ceased since the extinction of slavery. The politicians also fear that by the entrance of so large a body as Canada into their politics the balance of parties might be disturbed and existing combinations overturned. What the precise effect of the increased commercial intercourse might be on international sentiment, it seems impossible, amidst such a variety of complex influence, to foretell."

A MANITOBA REBELLION.

The accuracy of the reported threat of the people of Manitoba to take up arms against their sea of troubles—to rebel against the authority of the Government—may be accepted, after a liberal allowance has been made for exaggerations incident to the channel of communication by which the despatch reaches us. But there can be no doubt that the people are driven to desperation, and that the reported application from the Dominion Government for an injunction to prevent the construction of the Red River Valley Railway would be the final straw that breaks the camel's back. The measure of their bitterness has been heaped and is now running over. But thus far, with exemplary patience and patriotism, they have acted within the bounds of the constitution, and every true Canadian will pray that within it they may be enabled to right their wrongs and so emerge from their present quasi state of rebellion a more united, more progressive and more loyal people—if that be possible—than before. There will, of course, be no excuse for secession against the constituted government, for the simple reason that the people are a unit against the unconstitutional and tyrannical policy of Sir John A. Macdonald, who could not muster a corporal's guard from among Canadian volunteers to send against them. There will be no rebellion, further, because Manitoba is right and Sir John is wrong—because the former is fighting for the preservation of home rule and the latter is attempting to degrade provincial autonomy to a level below that of a township council. Wrong does not always triumph, and never when right and might go together. Future history will record that two rebellions were fomented in the Canadian Northwest by government mal-administration, but it is scarcely probable that a third—which would smash confederation into atoms—will occur at the present juncture, critical though it be.

NEW INDUSTRY FOR WOMEN.

Sending Daintily Served Meals to Families Who Do Light Housekeeping.

A new industry for women is beginning to evolve itself in New York, which may yet do much toward solving the vexed servant girl question. Some three months ago a woman of a good old New York family, educated and capable, left a widow without money and having served no apprenticeship to any of the industries by which women earn bread and butter, began to think of putting her pride in her pocket and turning her notable housekeeping talents to account by looking for service in a family as cook.

Considering the matter further, it occurred to her that she could do no better. Securing with some little effort, the project being a novel one, a clientage of half a dozen families in her immediate neighborhood that were groaning under dyspepsia, induced by "light housekeeping," she began to send out, three times a day, delicately cooked and daintily served meals. Her venture was so immediately successful that she looked up a New England housekeeper and a couple of stout armed Swedish girls to help her, and her business sprang almost in a single night to the utmost dimensions that she could handle. Families that had tried the frizzled steaks broiled by the green girl; families that were starving on meals elaborated over the flickering gas jet, families that had eaten "table board" in the basement dining room around the corner, families whose pocketbooks groaned at the expense of the waiter load sent in from hotel or restaurant, families whose heads were business women without time for cooking, families tired of the annoyance of servants in a small flat, were glad to be supplied with honest home cooking, varied, palatable, and at a reasonable price.

She has twenty-one families on her list at present, I think, to whom she supplies just that wholesome round of breakfasts, lunches and dinners that the average house mother would offer to husband and little folks. Fruit in season, in the morning, oatmeal or wheaten grits, fish, steak or chops; a side dish, such as stewed kidneys, sausage, liver and bacon, eggs, coffee, tea or chocolate, bread and butter, milk and sugar. Soup, fish, a roast, three vegetables, dessert and coffee make up the dinner, all of which is sent out at a cost of $7 a week to a single person, $5 each for members of families, though as what is supplied for two is sufficient for three, the cost per household is not reckoned in multiples of that sum. In a way the experiment is one of co-operative housekeeping, for, practically, the cost of everyday living is divided among a number of families, purchases of all being made together, the labor for all systematized and simplified, and the waste of all minimized, the result being that each family saves nearly the full amount of its cook's wages, and is freed from the tyranny of Castle Garden besides.

Two other women, emulous of the first, talk of starting similar enterprises. The scheme is in its infancy, but whenever a sufficient number of families within a radius of a block or two as near the great flat houses can be interested in it, it has promise of an opening for an industry for women and of relief from divers perplexities for the families they serve.—Eliza Putnam Heaton in Brooklyn Times.

Care in Taking Exercise.

As to exercise, great care in choosing what is best is always needed. Mountain climbing is to be avoided whenever it runs heart beats up beyond 100 a minute, or when one cannot breathe easily and regularly after ten minutes' rest at the highest point reached. In such cases, drive or ride. Rowing and swimming come under the same category, the latter being dangerous to any one whose heart is weak, causing risk of cramp while beyond depth. Ten minutes in the sea is enough. Tennis is different. Although it requires agility and considerable exertion, there are intervals of rest that make it one of the safest of games. It is only necessary to slip on a light coat or shawl when a set is finished to avoid sudden chill. Bathing is almost universally indulged in at all summer resorts, and, with the present fashion of early hours, is rarely harmful. It is after it is over that trouble begins. For girls in light dresses and men in evening clothes to go out from a heated room to a cool piazza and stand or stroll in chilly breeze is always risky, and has been the origin of more cases of quick consumption than almost any other cause. Wraps should always be put on when a dance is done, and endless walks avoided until dancers are thoroughly cooled off.—American Magazine.

The Picnic, the Beautiful Picnic.

Now let us to the woodland hie, where trees their verdure wrap, for spring no longer lingers in old burly winter's lap. In picnic garb we'll amble forth and sit beneath the trees and have our hides all chopped and hacked with stings of bumble bees. We'll gayly don our linen coats and thin seersucker pants, and sit beside the gurgling stream while e'er us crawl the ants. We'll swallow picnic lemonade to moisten down our grub, which people make by soaking one cheap lemon in a tub. The guileless lemon we shall eat, devour the clammy pie, and sit on bowls of custard while a tear bedims our eye. We'll tip the mustard in the jam, the pepper in the tea, and try with all our might to show that we are filled with glee. Then let us to the picnic hie, our basket in our hand, and homeward come filled up with woe, and leaves and dust and sand.—Atchison (Kan.) Globe.

Had a Boom.

"Has this town ever had a boom?" inquired a Boston man of a native who was looking around a railroad depot in Nebraska.

"I should remark!" was the ready reply.

"Help things much?"

"Well, that's a question. We boomed in two groceries, a mile of sidewalk, three eastern widows, a drug store and five saloons in one year, and real estate went up 30 per cent."

"Then it must have helped?"

"Yes, but we all got so infernal stuck up that me and another feller are the only two men in town what speak to each other, and seventeen persons backslid from one church alone."—Wall Street News.

French Politics.

Mrs. Bagley—William, are the French an intelligent people?

Bagley—Susan, I am amazed! The French are civilized to the highest degree.

Mrs. B.—All the same, they must be stupid. I have noticed that about a dozen Frenchmen have been trying to make a cabinet for a week or two and they can't do it. Now my brother in Boston—

Bagley (in anguish)—Great Heavens, Susan, don't let the neighbors know that your brother is a carpenter.—Philadelphia Call.

H'm!

Madame rings furiously for the valet de chambre.

"Antoine," she cries, "this letter has been opened."

"Madame"——

"I know it was my husband who has done it. Confess or I will discharge you at once."

"It was not monsieur. I confess, madame, that it was myself."

"Oh, well (more gently), that makes a difference. You may go."—Paris Paper.

Get Along with Economy.

"You know, of course," said the old man to the young man, "that my daughter has $100,000 in her own right?"

"Yes, sir."

"And you are not worth a cent."

"I'm poor, sir, but, great Scott, $100,000 is enough for two! Why, I'm economical to meanness."—New York Sun.

Habit of Routine Work.

Habit is the master of the world.

Take a slimly built fellow, nervous, needing sleep, accustomed for years to irregularities of eating and resting, and put him at work in the office of a morning newspaper, where his hours are from 7 at night until 3 in the morning. You think very naturally that he will grow thinner and paler and be more nervous. On the contrary, after a few days and nights, the habit of routine work, the habit of routine hours will settle upon him and in him, and in six months from the day of his commencement he will gain in weight, his nerves will be stronger, his muscles harder and his general condition improved, not alone because of the violence, but because of the regularity of his work—the habit of his occupation. Men who turn night into day, as tens of thousands of newspaper workers are compelled to, benefit very largely by the change. They are spared the broilings of the midday sun, they avoid very largely the crowds upon the streets, and although they are strung at times to the very verge of nervous excitement by the exactions of peremptory duty, most the puddings and forcings of much work in little time, the night workers of the press, as a rule, are the healthiest of the two sets.—Joe Howard's Letter.

A Hand to Hand Fight.

At the culmination of the battle of Sailors creek, when we got into the "hand to hand" part of it, there was a brass cannon belonging to the rebel battery stuck in the mud and the artillery men had left it, when it was discovered that it was loaded. It was not in a position to be of any service to either friend or foe, while if it could be extricated from the mud it was good for at least one shot at somebody. Three "Johnnies" and two "Yanks" took in the situation about the same time, and throwing aside their empty rifles rushed for this gun. A "Yank" and a "Johnnie" caught the sponge staff simultaneously and began a fight for it, while the other two "Johnnies" caught hold of one wheel and tried to turn the muzzle of the gun toward us. The other "Yank" caught the opposite wheel. Thus they stood and tugged away for two or three minutes, until our men coming up drove the "Johnnies" away. For a few minutes things were mighty lively; the "Johnnies" got a battery into position and began throwing shells into the crowd, where blue and gray were mixed together, but a section of one of our batteries coming up on the dead run soon drove them off, and settled the matter for the day.—"Trefoil" in Buffalo News.

An Omaha Horse Puzzle.

It is becoming customary to propound puzzles having horse trades as a central theme. While this paper has no horse editor, there are several people upon its staff who can tell a horse at sight, and who are not slow at arithmetic. A puzzle has occurred to one of them, and he gives it to the world at large. Suppose A sells a horse for $100 to B. Then B in turn sells him to C for $110, and the animal dies. What does each make or lose? The problem looks simple, but it is not. In the first place, A had stolen the horse. His profit would naturally be $100. A difficulty presents itself just here, for B paid A in counterfeit money, while C paid B by a note. B was indicted for passing counterfeit money. In revenge he had A arrested for stealing the horse, and both went to the pen. To add to the complications, D, the real owner of the horse, came along and claimed the hide and hoofs. The claim was disputed by C, and consequently upon the ensuing argument C's doctor's bill was $7.75. In the mean time a lawyer had gotten hold of the note and sued to collect it. C compromised the matter by licking the lawyer, and, grabbing the note, tore it up. At present there have been no more developments.—Omaha Herald.

Mr. Gladstone's Good Health.

The home rule envoys tell me that Mr. Gladstone's health is one of the marvels of the day. Medical men in London say that he is still one of the strongest men physically among the English gentry. When he strips there is not an ounce of superfluous flesh on his massive frame, and there are few men in the commons today that he could not knock out with his fist if he tried. He himself explained this by his love of exercise. His great delight, physical exercise. Yet Mr. Gladstone is now two years more than Disraeli was at his death, and probably does as much mental and literary and public work as any other man in Europe. He is the sole survivor of his generation of public men and yet rivals in physical strength and endurance youngsters who might be his grandchildren. His is indeed an interesting illustration of the value of outdoor exercise.—New York Star "Tattler."

The Bishop's Advice.

"And don't keep telling about your last appointment," says Bishop Fowler. "I knew a minister who was always telling how the people treated him at Brownsville. It was Brownsville here and Brownsville there—everything was Brownsville. This went on until everybody got thoroughly tired of hearing Brownsville. One night a good old lady arose in the weekly prayer meeting to give in her testimony. She was a dear, good soul—one of the saints on earth. She said she had had a hard week. 'My soul,' she said, 'has been greatly depressed all the week. I find my faith very weak and my hope very dim. I can no longer see my way to reaching heaven. I may hold out till I get to Brownsville, but I can't go a step further.' There was no more heard of Brownsville in that charge after that."—Texas Siftings.

What Drowns Good Swimmers.

I would not lie at all astonished if numerous cases of drowning, in which the victim is a good swimmer, were due to rush of blood to the brain, producing insensibility. The common explanation is that the strong swimmer who is seen to sink suddenly, was taken with a cramp. But from my experience I am led to think that it is not a cramp, but a sort of apoplexy that strikes men in such cases and renders them completely helpless. If it was merely a cramp of a leg or arm I do not believe that strong men would sink suddenly and almost without a struggle as we see that they do in so many cases. Every one who reads the papers will recall numerous instances at the sea shore and at every bathing resort where these mysterious drownings take place. I never knew any one to try to account for them except by the cramp theory. The medical men ought to study the matter and see if there is not some ground for the belief that apoplexy, produced by pressure of blood on the brain, is not more likely to be the cause of death in the water than drowning in consequence of cramp.—Rochester Post-Express.

Feminine Diplomacy.

"I can't understand, my dear, why it is that you, who have such an excellent man for a husband, should quarrel with him so often."

"Don't you! Well, it is because he always brings me home a present at night to make up. See?"—French Fun.

Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness and Hay Fever.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever is cured in from one to three simple applications made at home. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent free on receipt of stamp, by A. H. Dixon & Son, 305 King street West, Toronto, Canada.—Christian Standard. *

Persons desiring to place orders for immediate delivery. The cost will be reasonable, and it is calculated to burn in grates, cooking and hall stoves to perfection. House-keepers will be glad to learn that this coal has very little if any ashes or dust, and will burn a whole night through, throwing a steady heat if so required. According to the analysis of experts, and the experience of large consumers in the east, this coal has been proven to be equal, if not superior to the best Pennsylvania anthracite. *

Creme de la Creme Cigars; A. B. Gray & Co., Agents.

A Ferry at Behring Sea.

In an editorial the New York Tribune of last Monday says: The reference made in our cable letter to the possibility of railway communication between New York and [redacted] Petersburg, with three hours' ferriage across Behring Straits, seems over sanguine. It is probably based upon hasty generalization respecting railways projected by Russia, which are to make a closer approach to the New York parallel of latitude than to that of Behring Straits. Extreme cold lies in Northern Siberia not far from this. A railway northward from Washington territory would be a most costly enterprise, and when once constructed would be without traffic. The journey would be shorter to St. Petersburg by steamer to Bremen than by land up and down the continent.

Smoke "Creme de la Creme" Cigars.

The Sealing Grounds.

The Lottie arrived in Seattle on the 9th inst., from the Behring Sea seal hunting grounds. She was commanded by Capt. Brandt, who had with him an Indian crew. The Lottie left for the north June 3rd. One week after her departure she lost two boats with four of the best hunters on board. News was received, however, at Neah Bay by the Indians that the lost men had been rescued by the barkentine Constitution. The revenue cutter Richard Rush bore on the Lottie on August 19th, but sheered off without molesting the sealer, as she was engaged in her vocation over three leagues off the coast of Alaska. Capt. Brandt said that sealing was better this season than he had ever known it before. All the seals captured by the Lottie are very large and will bring $10 apiece.

Really! The Creme de la Creme.

Perry Creek.

There is at present considerable mining operations being carried on in the Kootenay district. Many of its streams are rich in auriferous indications. Several of these creeks many years ago were prospected, others were not. Old pioneer mining experts are to be met with in the district who assert that the real channel and bed-rock of Perry Creek has never been fairly reached, and that if the gravel sand and slum are penetrated, extremely rich deposits of coarse gold will be found beneath. A company has been formed in this city, that of the Perry Creek Gold Mining Company, for the purpose of developing this Creek. For the last three months they have been sinking a shaft on the old channel, and will soon be down to bed rock. They also own a tunnel driven 500 feet on the bed of a creek where salicle has diverted its course. This has proved very rich in its length. The prospects for this Company it would appear, are of a very encouraging character.

Give Them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. *

Northern Pacific Officials.

Mr. G. S. Marsh, Assistant General Passenger Agent from St. Paul, was a passenger by the Sound steamer to-day. He is accompanied by Mr. A. D. Charlton, the Western General Passenger Agent from Portland. These are courteous, affable, energetic, wide awake railway men, in the prime of life, and just such men as have contributed to make the Northern the popular and favorite route that it is with travelers. Mr. Marsh reports the harvest season in the Northwestern States as completed, and grain moving rapidly to the seaboard and milling centres of the east. The yield this year is larger than on any occasion; prices are fair, and farmers accordingly are happy. Travel this year has been very good on all the systems of the Northern. Immigration is pouring into the Northwestern States, Eastern Oregon and Washington and the Sound. It is probable these gentlemen will remain in the city a day or so.

By the Mexico.

The P. C. S. Co's steamer Mexico on her last northward trip from San Francisco carried the following merchandise for eastern cities via the Canadian Pacific. The value and cities were as follows:

Chicago	$8,100
St. Louis	3,542
St. Paul	600
Minneapolis	6,000
Philadelphia	4,800
New York	1,080
Troy, N. Y.
Total	$24,022
British Columbia	13,827
Grand Total	$38,855

The shipment to eastern cities included the following: To Philadelphia—44,420 lbs dried apricots; to New York—29,700 lbs dried peaches, 2500 galls wine; to Chicago—42,125 lbs dried apricots, 500 cs canned fruit; to St. Louis—306 sks beans; to Troy—80 bbls salmon; to St. Paul—31,125 lbs dried apricots, 7,564 galls syrup; to Minneapolis—2555 galls syrup.

TO BRITISH COLUMBIA.

The shipments to British Columbia included 28,606 lbs sugar, 778 lbs coffee, 130 lbs tea, 1000 lbs rice, 188 galls wine, 100 lbs butter, 1200 lbs codfish, 380 lbs ham, 108 sks beans, 127 cs canned fruit, 396 cs canned goods, 3105 lbs dried fruit, 360 lbs lard, 40 bxs pearl barley, 2870 lbs malt, 946 lbs tobacco, 4 rolls leather, 2292 lbs pig lead, 4059 lbs pig tin.

The Royal City.

Notwithstanding the phenomenal strides Vancouver is making, New Westminster is not going back. On the contrary her progress this year has been the greatest witnessed for many years. Magnificent blocks of buildings are raising their tops heavenwards, as are also villas and substantial residences throughout the city and in its proximity. All this indicates unmistakably a strong feeling of confidence on the part of the citizens in the stability of the place and its future prospects. New Westminster continues to be the point for transferring freight from and to the railway. It is likely so to remain for some time, as she has decided advantages over her sister city on the Inlet. The distance from the junction of the railway to the water front is considerable in the eyes of a railway official. Then there is the rise and fall of the tide, which, at Vancouver, according to the Columbian, is 14 feet, whilst it is but six feet at New Westminster. Another advantage in favor of New Westminster is that she is the fresh water terminus. Here it will not be necessary to renew the piles every three or four years, or put shipping to inconvenience whilst repairs are in progress. The Columbian considers these are advantages which are not transferable. The Royal City holds them by nature, and they are therefore inalienable. Neither of the twin cities can prosper without benefitting the other.

Bloodshed Averted.

A few weeks since Commissioner O'Reilly surveyed and set apart as an Indian reserve a considerable tract of meadow land in the Chilcooten country. Outside the reserve there still remained a considerable tract of good land. This became known to a young Englishman who immigrated to British Columbia a few months since and happening to be in that section of the Province entered for three preemptions of the meadow land. To the Commissioner Chief Annaheim protested against any interference with the land, as it belonged to his tribe, who were born and brought up thereon. Declining to elect which portion of the land they would settle upon as a reserve, the Commissioner made the selection for the Chief. Against this he became very hostile. The English settler had already entered upon his land and began improving it. Chief Annaheim at once issued a mandate to all the young fighting men and bucks of the tribes north as far as Rivers Inlet and Bella Bella to meet him in council at once. These began to assemble in dozens and hundreds from all sections. They came arrayed in full war-like pharaphernalia, with feathers and paint and a couple of rifles in the possession of most of them. For days and nights they had traveled and ridden over mountain and glen without a morsel of food. On reaching the reserve a pow-wow was held. The young pale-face was given to understand that they were not hostile to him personally; but if he left peaceably no bodily harm would be done him. But the land was theirs and they were bound to keep it. They numbered close upon a thousand strong. The Britisher quietly surrendered his claim and left, vowing he ne'er would again jeopardize his life by fighting single handed against a thousand red skins. The government will be called upon to settle the question. There is good land there lying in waste. The question now is, who runs the country, the Indians or the government?

BRITISH NOBILITY.

Arrival in Victoria of Two British Lords and Two Earls.

By the Yosemite on Tuesday night there arrived from the east Lords Elphinstone and Carnegie, the Earls of Lathom and Kintore and Lady Kintore. They are registered at the Driard.

Lord Elphinstone is largely interested in northwest land investments, he being a principal owner in the Northwest Land Company. He considers the prospects of Manitoba as excellent; the harvest there this year is excellent and must have a beneficial effect on immigration. The other noble Lords are likewise interested in the country. With the Canadian Pacific, the country traversed, and the scenery in the mountains they were greatly pleased. The railroad was a marvel of engineering skill and the scenery was unsurpassed. Their Lordships are impressed with capabilities of the country and its natural resources. It is their conviction that British Columbia will yet become a very important province in the Canadian confederacy. They left England on August 20th and have to be back again by October 19th.

Earl Latham is about fifty years of age and is the first of his line. He is Lord Chamberlain, with a salary of $10,000 a year. His duties are to look after the very important questions of precedence at the English court. He has also the control of the length of the skirts of the ballet dancers within the limits of London. We must not confound him with a Lord Chancellor. He has also been a Lord-in-Waiting and a Captain of the Yeomen of the guard. He has a rental of $110,000 a year and owns one living in the Church of England. He is not a politician, although he has a vote.

Lord Elphinstone is a peer of very ancient Scottish lineage, the first creation having been in 1509. He is a Lord-in-Waiting, for which he is paid £897 or $4,485. He was, before he became an English peer, one of the representative peers of Scotland, of whom there are 16. He lives in Gladstone's County, Midlothian, has a rental of $65,000 a year; has served in the Crimea, is a Naval Captain, retired; married a daughter of the Earl of Dunmore. He takes a very small part in politics.

The Earl of Kintore, of the Scotch Peerage, sits and votes in the House of Lords for the inferior English title of Baron Kintore. He is about thirty-five years of age and married a daughter of the Duke of Manchester. He was once a Lord-in-Waiting, but is now Captain of yoemen of the guard with a salary of $6,000 a year. His rent roll is about $150,000 a year.

Lord Carnegie is a son of the Earl of Southesk of Scotland, is about 33 years old. The title was in abeyance from 1715 to 1855, because the fifth Earl was engaged in the rebellion of 1715, but by an act of Parliament it was revived 32 years ago.

It will be seen that these three Noble Lords, Lord Lathom, Earl of Elphinstone and the Earl of Kintore are all members of the present Tory Government of England, but they are all "Domesties" and not politicians. Lord Dufferin once said of himself when he was Lord Privy Seal, who does "odd jobs" for other members of the Cabinet, that he was "the maid of all work" for the Liberals, so [redacted] and that the others are assistants.

The Hon. A. E. B. Davie and Mrs. Davie arrived from the Mainland last night. The Premier appears to have been greatly benefited by his holiday trip to the Interior. It is evident the high and dry climate of Cariboo is possessed of healing virtues, as is evidenced in the improved condition of Mr. Davie.

In Brief and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember! No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents. *

The New York Commercial Bulletin's fire record for August shows a total loss in the United States and Canada of $8,317,500 against $13,000,000 in August, 1886.
